Red China To Permit Kin Of GI Prisoners To Visit Them

Knowland Charges Chinese Hold 800 Yanks In Prisons

CHICAGO (AP)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) says he believes Red China holds "something over 800 other GIs" in prison besides the 15 American airmen they acknowledge holding.

In a speech to the Cicero Manufacturers' Assn., last night, the Senate minority leader said: "We have strong reason to believe they hold more than the 15 they acknowledge of holding."

Not Included In Trade

The men showed up neither in the little or big switch prisoner exchange following the Korean truce in 1953, Knowland said. Names of the imprisoned Americans, he said, were learned from Red propaganda broadcasts, other released POWs and Pentagon reports.

Knowland said a compilation of the various reports led him to the strong belief the Red Chinese held "several hundred other GIs in prison enclosures." He later set the figure at "something over 800 other GIs."

Hold 4 Other Airmen

He said the Reds hold 4 "fighter airmen" plus the 11 U.S. airmen already sentenced to 4 to 10 year prison terms on trumped up spy charges. Another 32 civilians, including clergymen, businessmen and students, also are illegally imprisoned, the California Republican said.

Knowland declared the United Nations should, within a "short time," tell the world what it is prepared to do if the men are not released.

"I do not intend to remain silent while a single American rots in a prison cell," Knowland told the meeting.

Turning to the Far East in general, Knowland called on the United States to set forth a line "beyond which we will not permit further Communist aggression in Asia."

Officials, Four Convicts Confer

Rebel Prisoners Still Hold Guards Hostage

BOSTON (AP)—A seven man committee, including two editors, prison officials and the president of the Boston Bar Assn., conferred early today with the four rebel convicts at Massachusetts State prison, in efforts to end a four-day stalemate.

One committee member said the group had met with the rebellious quartet in efforts to obtain release of five hostage guards and six other inmates held in a cell block at the old prison since early Tuesday.

To Meet Again

The committee plans another meeting at the prison today.

Its members are:

Sumner H. Babcock, president of the Boston Bar Assn.; the Rev. John J. Grant, associate editor of The Pilot, Boston's Catholic archdiocesan paper; Erwin D. Canham, editor of the Christian Science Monitor; the Rev. Edward Hartigan, Catholic chaplain at the prison; and Patrick J. McDonough, a member of the executive (or governor's) council.

Canham said the "situation is so delicate the committee members agreed not to talk until they can tell everything."

Earlier four grim prison officials went into the prison from the warden's office for a two-hour stay but declined to give any details of the trip.

The officials were Warden John J. O'Brien; E. Lawrence Spurr, state commissioner of correction; Otis M. Whitney, state police head; and State Police Capt. John Mitchell. Escorted by an armed guard, they emerged from the prison at 5:15 a.m. and entered the warden's office, refusing comment.

The conference in the warden's office continued for some time.

At one point O'Brien left the office for a few minutes and returned. He told reporters, "there is no change in the situation." He also said there is no truth to a report he had heard that one of the five hostage guards held by the convicts had been killed or hurt.

The hostages have been receiving food regularly with the permission of their captors while the four convicts have been living on supplies.

Rebels Retreat In Costa Rica

Neutral Zone Set Up On Nicaragua Border

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP)—Unofficial reports said today Loyalist troops have chased rebel garrisons out of Puerto Soley and moved into LaCruz in operations at the edge of the newly proclaimed buffer zone between Costa Rica and Nicaragua.

These reports, from usually reliable sources, said the rebel forces were withdrawing toward the Nicaraguan frontier. Neutral ground and air observers of the Inter-American Peace Commission were patrolling a belt 18 miles long in that area to keep the rebellion from touching off a war between the two Latin American neighbors.

Stuck at La Cruz

Presumably the rebels were hit by a flanking group commanded by Costa Rican Col. Frank Marshall. A highly authoritative source confirmed that Marshall's column struck late yesterday at La Cruz, a rebel strong point on the Inter-American Highway little more than three miles by air from the Nicaraguan frontier and only about 10 miles by the winding highway.

Puerto Soley, one of the first invasion points, is a Pacific coastal hamlet about six miles southwest of La Cruz.

Launching its major peace-preservation effort, the five-nation commission of the Organization of American States dispatched 23 officers to patrol the neutral buffer

Man Injured As Car Hits Railroad Tracks

A 36-year-old RD 1, North Benton man was injured at 10:11 p.m. Thursday when his car, traveling south on S. Broadway, failed to negotiate a turn at the end of the street, struck the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks and flipped over on its top.

The driver, Robert L. Weekly, sustained lacerations of the scalp, concussion and shock and was admitted to the Central Clinic, police said.

A fireman at the Deming Co. Pete Boals of 373 N. Broadway, noticed a headlight of the car shining on the tracks and notified police, who contacted the railroad control tower at Leetonia to hold up scheduled trains until the tracks were cleared.

A wrecker had to back down the tracks from the S. Ellsworth Ave. crossing to remove the car.

The driver, who told police he was traveling 50 miles per hour, will be charged with reckless operation.

Cars driven by Katherine Hole of 225 N. Union Ave. and Ruth E. Hutson of 792 Franklin St. collided Wednesday at 3:30 p.m. at the intersection of N. Lincoln Ave. and E. 4th St., police reported.

2 Persons Injured In Road Accident

Two persons were injured at 4:05 p.m. Thursday in an auto mishap on Route 30, five miles north of East Liverpool, state highway patrolmen reported.

A car driven north by Joseph Hill, 50, of Rogers, sideswiped an auto, also headed north, driven by Albert Walker 48 of RD Lisbon as Walker was pulling into the Henry Service Station.

Hill's car then crashed into the gasoline pumps and struck a bystander Wanda Henry, 32, of RD 1, East Liverpool.

Hill sustained cuts about the face and the woman received a sprained wrist and body bruises and contusions. The injured persons were treated at East Liverpool City Hospital.

Hill told patrolmen an approaching car forced him off the road.

Resistance Ends On China Island

Entire Nationalist Force Dies In Battle

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)—Communist China held undisputed possession of tiny Yikiangshan Island today and its battle-tested amphibious striking power menaced the nearby strategic Tachen Islands 200 miles north of Formosa.

The Nationalist Defense Ministry said the 720 Nationalist guerrillas on Yikiangshan had been wiped out to the last man.

Resistance ceased on the island, the ministry said, at 9:12 p.m. last night, 61 hours 12 minutes after Chinese Red invaders landed behind pulverizing naval and air bombardment.

"Our brave guerrillas" accomplished their anti-Communist, resist Russia and territory protection duty and all of them died gloriously in action," the ministry said. "Such valor has gained respect and admiration the world over."

Peiping radio, however, insisted that all fighting had ended Tuesday, the same day its amphibious invaders struck in overwhelming force.

The broadcast, heard in Tokyo, said the Communists had killed about 50 Nationalist troops, captured more than 550 and seized stores of guns and ammunition.

Hailed "Liberation"

Another Peiping broadcast hailed the "liberation" of Yikiangshan as a victory which has "inspired the nation in its struggles to liberate Taiwan (Formosa)."

The bustling broadcast, heard in Tokyo, stressed the importance of the Yikiangshan action in Red China's "campaign to liberate the coastal islands and ultimately Taiwan itself."

A Nationalist spokesman said the Communists had thrown a force of 5,500 troops onto Yikiangshan and supported them with intense artillery fire from Tumen and Tienao islands and naval and air bombardments.

The spokesman said the Nationalist guerrillas had inflicted 2,000 casualties on the Reds.

Visas Must Be Obtained From U. S. Government

17 Americans Held By Chinese Termed In Good Condition

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The United Nations announced today Premier Chou En-Lai has agreed to permit relatives to visit 17 Americans held in Chinese jails.

This agreement was reached at the conference in Peiping between U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld and the Premier - Foreign minister of Red China.

The United States, however, does not extend diplomatic recognition to Red China and there was no indication the state department would provide passports good for travel there—even in the event any of the relatives should desire to go.

Mrs. Edwin Heller, wife of a lieutenant colonel held in China, said at Philadelphia she had been advised the United States could extend her no protection. She added she did not believe her husband would want her to go, anyway.

The United Nations issued the following note disclosing this action:

"As is being announced this morning from Peiping, Premier Chou En-Lai, during his talks with Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld, indicated that the government of the People's Republic of China would provide facilities for relatives to visit those United States personnel who had been convicted and those whose cases were under investigation, if they should wish to do so and that the Red Cross Society of China would make all the arrangements necessary."

11 Airmen Held

The U.S. personnel referred to in the announcement means the 11 aviators who were convicted on spy charges. Two civilians who were seized as spies but who were not under Army control, and four jet pilots whose cases are being investigated by the Chinese.

It was said the question of giving visas to the relatives to visit the personnel would be up to the U.S. government.

Hammarskjöld informed Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., U.S. delegate, of this action at his first talk with him on Jan 13 immediately upon his return from his globe-girdling trip.

Hammarskjöld also told Secretary of State Dulles, when he conferred with him in Washington this week, that he had received assurances of the well-being of the prisoners. There was no indication here as to what assurances Hammarskjöld received, but it was known that these assurances were made in more than verbal ways.

Columbiana Officials Express Approval Of Kaiser Plant

COLUMBIANA — Columbiana Chamber of Commerce officials and business leaders regard the location here of the Kaiser Aluminum & Chemical Corporation re-factories plant as an important step in greater development for Columbiana and neighboring communities, and have expressed themselves as pleased with the character of the new industry.

President David L. Holloway of the Chamber said today: "I am pleased to extend a welcome to the Kaiser Corporation as a highly important addition to Columbiana industrial and financial interests, which will have a stimulating effect, not only in Columbiana, but in the surrounding area and neighboring communities."

"The Chamber was assured from the beginning that the type of the new industry would not be detrimental in any way to the community — to its cleanliness or the purity of its atmosphere. It is an important step in the progress of the entire area."

"I want especially to express appreciation of the work of Russell P. Lindsay, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, who conducted negotiations with representatives of the Kaiser Corporation before he knew whom they represented. The community also owes a great debt to the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. as the other of the two most important factors in getting the plant to locate here."

Mark Klingensmith, president of the Union Bank and interested in the Columbiana Pump Co., said:

"The location here of the Kaiser Aluminum & Chemical Corporation plant is an important addition to Columbiana's already well diversified industries, adding a distinctively new line. It will add to the volume of business in all lines and make Columbiana more widely and favorably known. The economy of the entire surrounding area will benefit. It is rather fortunate that the new industry will not start with a large force, as he healthy growth of the community will derive more benefit from a gradual increase in the number of employees than from unsettled boom conditions."

Saudi Arabia has a long list of restrictions on the activities of foreigners, mostly stemming from conservative Moslem doctrines which have weakened in some parts of the Arab world. They include no drinking of alcoholic liquor, no Christian marriage ceremonies, restriction of imports of dolls, and censorship of imported literature.

Ever since Aramco started operations in 1934 in the Persian Gulf area, Christian churches have been forbidden. Christian ministers traveled as "teachers" on weekend trips from Bahrain to hold household services for company personnel.

An Aramco spokesman in Cairo said oil company officials submitted a petition to the King recently listing the restrictions. As a result, the monarch lifted the ban on women drivers and announced Christian ministers could reside and preach in oil company areas.

Not only has the King canceled a ban on women drivers, but he also is letting Christian ministers preach openly in oil company areas of Saudi Arabia—a sharp break from tradition in the ultraconservative Moslem country.

Angry women drivers started it all.

Saudi Arabia has a long list of restrictions on the activities of foreigners, mostly stemming from conservative Moslem doctrines which have weakened in some parts of the Arab world. They include no drinking of alcoholic liquor, no Christian marriage ceremonies, restriction of imports of dolls, and censorship of imported literature.

Ever since Aramco started operations in 1934 in the Persian Gulf area, Christian churches have been forbidden. Christian ministers traveled as "teachers" on weekend trips from Bahrain to hold household services for company personnel.

American oil officials, in the interests of good will, did not protest much against the restrictions.

Democrats Draw Up Legislation

Bills To Support Lausche's Program

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Democrat leaders said today they will introduce bills in the Legislature next week to carry out Gov. Frank J. Lausche's program.

Sen. Joseph W. Bartunek and Rep. James J. McGettrick, Clevelanders who serve as minority floor leaders in their branches of the General Assembly, made the joint announcement.

They have the task of guiding the governor's program through the Republican-dominated Legislature this session.

Lausche outlined his program in a "State of the State" address to the Legislature Jan. 11 but left details up to bill-drafters. Bartunek and McGettrick said the program would be embodied in 33 bills, some of them already introduced.

Sen. C. Stanley Mechem (R-Athens), Senate majority leader, said Republican policy bills probably would start coming in next week.

But reports from camps of both Democrats and Republicans indicated that leaders might have more trouble than they are willing to admit in meeting the Feb. 14 deadline for introducing proposed laws.

Leaders in both parties hope to build records in the 101st Legislature to help their 1956 election campaigns.

Although Republicans retained control of the Legislature, Democrats increased their numerical strength in both houses in the 1954 elections, Lausche again was the only Democrat to win elective administrative office in the Statehouse.

Lausche has held a number of conferences with leaders of his party in the Governor's Mansion since the session started Jan. 3.

Yesterday he entertained Republican leaders at a "harmony" breakfast. "We are in substantial agreement on practically every problem confronting the state," Lausche told newsmen later.

"There may be disagreements but they are not irreconcilable on the means of achieving the objectives," he added.

Two of the GOP leaders, Mechem and House Speaker Roger Cloud, said the conference reached no definite agreements.

The Bartunek-McGettrick statement said Republicans would sponsor some Lausche-backed bills. The Democrat leaders identified three proposals already introduced by Republicans as embodying portions of Lausche's program.

The pending proposals call for a $115 million dollar bond issue to finance mental hospital building; compulsory hospitalization of persons with communicable tuberculosis; and removal of a ban on pay raises for judges during their terms in office.

Spelling out two program proposals will be measures to boost maximum workmen's compensation payments from $32.20 to $34.30 a week and jobless benefits from $30 to $34 a week.

Others would eliminate ceilings on payments to the aged and the blind and substitute "need" as the basis for benefits; permit the governor to appoint a state board of education, and enable Ohio to comply with federal requirements so it would not lose three million dollars annually in grants for the totally and permanently disabled.

Other listed proposals deal with: Movie censorship and regulation of comic books; revision of Ohio's utility rate - fixing formula, reclamation of strip-mined lands, a

Dr. Sheppard to Be Billed For $4,425 Cost Of Trial

CLEVELAND (AP)—Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard will be billed for $4,425 for the trial that resulted in his conviction on a second degree murder charge in the July 4 slaying of his wife.

Clerk of Courts Leonard Fuerst, announcing this today, said state law makes it possible to collect costs from a defendant convicted of a felony, if he can afford it. If Sheppard refuses payment, Fuerst said, the sheriff will be asked to attach his property.

The bill represents the total court costs, including $2,940 in jury fees and $574 in witness fees.

Report U. S. To Aid Evacuation Of Chiang Army

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.) predicted today Congress would approve any request by President Eisenhower for authority to use U.S. air and sea power to assist in the possible evacuation of some Chinese Nationalist islands.

Eisenhower was reported last night to be considering such a request. If Red Chinese pressure should force evacuation of troops from the offshore islands.

The Reds this week captured the island of Yikiangshan, which had been held by a small garrison, and they have stepped up attacks on the Tachen group, on which Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists have some 20,000 men.

Some American military men were said to believe that if Nationalist forces were withdrawn from some offshore outposts, they might profitably be deployed elsewhere for the defense of Formosa.

Secretary of State Dulles and Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, reportedly sounded out congressional leaders at a State Department briefing yesterday on the possibility of a congressional resolution to give the President advance approval to use sea and air power if necessary in any evacuation attempt.

Smith, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, disclaimed knowledge that any such request might be forthcoming, but he said he thinks the President would get "any authority he wants" bearing on the Formosa situation.

Costa Rica Beats Revolt By Reds

100 Arrested, 10 Persons Are Killed

GUATEMALA (AP)—The government pushed a roundup of Communists and supporters of ex-President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman today after beating down an uprising aimed at unseating anti-Red President Carlos Castillo Armas. At least 100 persons already were under arrest.

Government troops held Guatemala city and other strategic centers in an armed grip. Castillo Armas announced that 10 persons were killed and an undetermined number wounded in a brief clash yesterday between loyal forces and rebels seeking to capture Aurora Air Force Base, outside the capital. He blamed the Communists and Arbenz's supporters.

The anti-Red government—in office less than seven months—promptly declared a state of siege—modified martial law. But authorities announced they were in control throughout the country.

Machine gun-carrying soldiers mounted tight guard on military posts and strategic points. A 10 p.m. curfew went into effect in the capital.

A presidential decree said the state of siege was necessary to snuff out the "subversive groups" which "in connection with Communist elements disturbed public tranquility and by an armed action tried to overthrow the legally constituted government."

Press censorship was ordered but so far no checks were placed on foreign correspondents' dispatches.

The outbreak was the most serious attempt thus far to unseat the anti-Communist President, who gained power last June when he led a revolt that drove out Arbenz's Red-supported government. The ousted President recently went from his exile residence in Mexico to Switzerland, where he was granted Swiss citizenship because his father had been born in that country.

Plus Popular Confidence

There is something conspicuously lacking in periodic reviews of President Eisenhower's administration. It is lacking in the reviews that mark the completion of his second year in the presidency.

Unfortunately, at the halfway point of his term a statistics-minded country has no way to appraise intangible influences, even though some of these surely have had tangible effects.

Something more than government policy was involved in the popular confidence that caused consumers to surprise producers with demands for goods, thereby averting a far worse slump than vociferous economic materialists had predicted, after consulting their statistical charts.

Consumers do not consult charts. They consult feelings. And their feelings in the last two years have been influenced strongly by confidence in the integrity of presidential leadership.

It has been pointed out so often it scarcely bears repetition that President Eisenhower has a lot to learn about party politics. But after two presidencies during which there was general agreement that the occupants of the White House were the foremost political experts of their time, this was not held against a man whose qualities of leadership had been proved in another field.

In fact, the presidential election of 1952, with its unprecedented bipartisan support of a nominee never previously identified with either party, was a clearing away of popular misgivings about politics that had become so narrowly partisan they were threatening the fundamental unity of the American people.

The Eisenhower sweep at the polls represented a regeneration of confidence. To a significant degree, the regeneration is still a potent force in public opinion, despite all the political bickerings that sometimes have threatened to drag the Eisenhower administration into a worse mess than it was given a mandate to clean up.

At its halfway point, the administration's leadership is continuing to have a powerful effect on the confidence of all the people. They still believe in the integrity of the President. They are continuing to forgive him for what may appear to be errors of policy because they are continuing to give him credit for blameless principles.

Who Wants A Balanced Budget?

How would you get control of runaway federal spending if you were sent to Washington?

Members of the Committee For Economic Development have studied the problem for years. Their stake in it is larger than average.

When the federal government allocates the cost of its operation, which now consumes about one-sixth of all goods and services produced in this country, these economically successful men draw more than average shares of the burden. They have a powerful incentive to wonder why the burden is so large.

A report on federal expenditures by a committee of C.E.D. trustees contains an explanation of unusual interest on the eve of President Eisenhower's budget message.

The federal budget is out of control, the committee says, because no one in Congress, where spending and taxing decisions are made, is responsible for keeping it under control.

One bloc of congressmen spend all their time studying requests for larger expenditures. Another group of congressmen try to satisfy demands for lower taxes.

Nowhere is there a congressional committee whose members are responsible for reconciling income and outgo.

In Washington, the right hand does not know or care what the left hand is doing. Confusion is compounded by a budget-making process that creeps with rusty practices.

Coordination between spenders and taxers does not exist. There is no way to rate the necessity or the value of spending programs; performance reports are never compiled. There is no continuing audit of management. Numerous departments clamor for ever-larger appropriations for overlapping functions. No one clamors for taxes, however.

There is no congressional committee responsible for keeping the United States out of the red by looking at both sides of the budget equation.

This will be made plain during the months ahead while Congress obeys its powerful instinct to vote for larger benefits and smaller taxes. The only way it can be stopped, in the absence of suitable legislative machinery, is for the constituents of Congressmen to declare their opposition to every expenditure that is not offset by taxation.

Look at the 1955 presidential budget with this in mind. Spenders are legion. Tax-cutters are a dime a dozen. But budget balancers are nil.

When you are trying, things in general aren't so much so.

Budget Message Conducive To Healthy Economy

What the president of the United States says about the business outlook is usually the product of what his economic advisers have assembled from the most authentic data available.

Hence, when Eisenhower says there is a good chance for a healthy expansion of the national economy, it is a well considered judgment.

"Economic well-being," he says, "sustains our whole national life. A high and rising standard of living brings to more of our people the opportunity for continued intellectual and spiritual growth."

This is the thesis which the President's economic report to Congress has emphasized. But, entirely apart from the statistical facts, there is such a thing as a good or a bad climate for business. Eisenhower says:

"A free economy has great capacity to generate jobs and incomes if a feeling of confidence in the economic future is widely shared by investors, workers, businessmen, farmers and consumers."

But what is that feeling of confidence? What makes it and what breaks it?

UNRESTRAINED spending and a reckless disregard for the soundness of the nation's currency is one thing, but almost as destructive is the tendency in some quarters to put the government into all sorts of businesses, thus stifling private initiative and rendering uncertain the future of many enterprises.

To those in doubt on that point, the President makes this significant comment in his message:

"The role of the federal government in the achievement of these goals is to create an atmosphere favorable to economic activity by encouraging private initiative, curbing monopolistic tendencies, avoiding encroachment on the private sector of the economy, and carrying out as much of its own work as is practicable through private enterprise."

It should take its full part at the side of state and local governments in providing appropriate public facilities. It should restrain tendencies toward recession or inflation. It should widen opportunities for less fortunate citizens, and help individuals to cope with the hazards of unemployment, illness, old age, and blighted neighborhoods."

This is a general statement, of course, but it breathes the spirit of a conservative liberalism as opposed to what might be called a radical liberalism.

None of us who support the first of the two schools of thought wants to see governmental intervention in the economic life of the country prohibited, for the truth is it has been going on ever since the days of Alexander Hamilton, who urged protective tariffs for infant industries.

THIS PRINCIPLE is far different from plunging the government into the electric-power business, which is what the critics of the Dixon-Yates contract are really eager to accomplish.

If government ownership is right in one case, it is right in all others, and then state capitalism takes over the field of private enterprise.

At the root, however, of all these controversies between those who want to conserve the fruits of the individual's labor — his savings and his property — and those who are ready to confiscate a large part of both to assist specially privileged groups or areas, there is the basic question of solvency for the government itself.

THE PRESIDENT in his budget message made a telling point when he said:

"We must maintain financial strength. Preserving the value of the dollar is a matter of vital concern to each of us. Surely no one will advocate a special tax on the widows and orphans, pensioners, and working people with fixed incomes. Yet inflation acts like a tax which hits these groups hardest. This administration has made a stable dollar and economy in government operations positive policies from the top down."

The big question now is which of the two major political parties will have the better record on this point when the 1956 campaign is at hand.

The Democratic party is in control of both houses of Congress and can, by unrestrained spending, break down confidence in the dollar, thus bringing on inflation, or it can aid the Republican administration in cutting expenses so as to balance the budget.

Industry Tackles Alcoholism

By STANLEY KLIGFELD

A growing number of American corporations are organizing their medical departments to help employees who are problem drinkers. Whatever treatment the doctors decide on is kept confidential. Nothing is done to jeopardize a man's career.

At Consolidated Edison, in New York, all workers are automatically referred to the medical department whenever they can't do their work properly, show behavior problems or are absent from work excessively. The examining physician determines whether the person is a problem drinker.

Similar procedures for problem drinkers are the rule in scores of companies, including such industrial giants as Du Pont, Eastman Kodak and Allis-Chalmers.

The following remark by a physician in General Motors' medical department is typical: "We regard alcoholism in no other manner except as a disease."

As recently as a decade ago, most employers felt problem drinkers deserved little or no consideration. At best, they were social misfits, at worst, moral lepers. Almost without exception, they were fired.

The switch in corporate thinking doesn't mean that the interested business firms have an excess number of alcoholics on their payrolls. In Wilmington, a Du Pont physician asserts: "We have better than 70,000 employees. Among these, you'll find the same proportion of problem drinkers as in the population generally."

About 100 million persons in the U.S. are entitled to buy alcoholic beverages legally. The National Committee on Alcoholism estimates that the country has 4 million problem drinkers, with two million of these holding jobs in industry.

A spokesman for Consolidated Edison said that "problem drinking employees almost always are married and living with their families, have histories of steady employment in jobs requiring skill and responsibility."

"There's economic waste involved each time you have to fire a worker or an executive when they should be at their peak of productive skill."

At Consolidated Edison, the method of treatment varies from patient to patient, depending on the reasons the employee is a problem drinker, physical condition, background and desire to recover. "The first step," a doctor remarks, "is to get the problem drinker to admit that he cannot stop excessive drinking, that he wants and needs help."

"In any case," he adds, "a psychiatrist is called in to help the patient recognize his problem, may even treat the problem drinker for whatever emotional disturbance led to his overdrinking." Physicians for Du Pont as well as those for other concerns also recommend such programs as that of Alcoholics Anonymous to help bring about a cure.

Companies running such programs say their efforts generally have been successful.

Du Pont, for instance, estimates its program has succeeded in helping 65 per cent of the problem drinkers return to sobriety. Consolidated Edison places its percentage of recoveries at 52 per cent. In Milwaukee, Allis-Chalmers claims its program has cut absenteeism in one department over 12 months' time to 900 lost days annually, from 1,900 days.

In Rochester, N.Y., officials of Eastman Kodak believe publicity given the company program has had effects, not only within the firm, but in the community as well.

A company physician remarks: "We get people coming to the medical department says they had seen an article in a newspaper or heard a radio or television program, and asking whether we can help."

We Think We Understand the Bowman's Dilemma!

Teen-Agers

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

This is a fact: There have always been teen-agers and they have always presented problems to their parents.

Sometimes we forget that we were once teen-agers and that we learned by crawling and toddling, and that we were surprised when we discovered that cured instrument of personality, the mind.

I sometimes hear conversations among very bright teen-age girls on their families and the families of their friends and I discovered a secret: They do not like divorced parents because they think it unfair and unjust and as one girl put it, a lousy trick.

MY EARS pricked up because I knew that some of these young ladies had far more direct knowledge and experience with the subject than I ever could have.

What, for instance, is the responsibility of a father who has brought three children into the world, enjoyed their company for years, and then dumps them just as they are maturing and need him most? Some of my young friends ask me that.

He, of course, has to live his own life and cannot possibly endure his wife another day. He will give her anything she wants, if she will only go to Reno or Chihuahua or Mexico City, and get a divorce, accusing him of mental cruelty but not mentioning his paramour. I was once told by a young lady that her father's passion for his fourth wife was wearing thin because she, the child, had discovered him in impropriety with a person whose name she mentioned. I wondered, at the time, whether she was confiding in me or whether she hoped that I might spread the juicy item. I heard an intelligent young lady refer to her ex-father, as she put it, as a bum.

One of their favorite phrases has become "so-called liberals," which gets across the idea that these are not liberals at all but imposters, which is exactly what the so-called commentators intend to get across. When you stop to think about it, there are a great many places where "so-called" could be inserted with equally telling effect.

There are so-called blondes, brunets, comedians, cure-alls, money-saving bargains, reconditioned used cars, sound investments, cures for baldness, family-type milk cows, political experts;

Repossessed household appliances, merchandise sold at less than cost, bargain basements, conservative politicians, honest public officials, overprivileged plutocrats, fearless statesmen, popular surveys;

Ballplayers and prizefighters as good as they ever were at 39, economic depressions, economic booms, cold wars, beauty aids, historical novels, work-saving gadgets, accident-free highways;

Schemes for charity, flood control programs, cleanup campaigns in the comic book industry, codes of decency, safe drivers, conservation programs, writing implements that won't wear out, greasless hair greases, seedless oranges, grit-free spinach;

Wrinkle-resistant fabrics, premium gasolines, premium beers tooth saving dentifrices, distinguished visitors, worthless rascals, dauntless fighters for virtue, fireproof buildings, unsinkable ships, puncture-proof tires!

Absolute guarantees, burglar-proof locks, fool-proof schemes, inspired geniuses, complete failures, insuperable weapons, impregnable defenses, authorities on history and experts in numismatics.

This list only suggests how many things represented as being thus and so are not necessarily for too much when we elders cause them such pain and set them such a horrible example. The more the child adores the father, the worse the moral shock when the father deserts the household. For it is not his wife whom he hurts but his children. They have lost their illusions. The great big, friendly fellow, who played with trains and brought dolls at Christmas, has turned out to be a creep.

There is another thing I learn from many teen-agers: They hate to see their parents drunk. This is a double-edged evil because while the children abominate drunken parents, they do imitate them, and many fathers and mothers, I am sure, would be surprised to know how their children spike their so-called soft drinks. I heard of a young fellow who was selling "spikes" for a nickel a shot out of an eye-dropper.

Children in broken homes are of several kinds, but those I find most exciting are the little ones whose imaginations run riot over the intrigues, the recriminations among their proliferating parents. As the fathers and mothers, brothers and sisters, known and unrecognized, multiply, they live through it all excited, stimulated, almost boastful. They somehow manage to know details which ordinarily are behind closed doors.

WHAT ALL THIS does to their minds, I do not know, but I have come across some children who are masterful blackmailers, using parent against parent, to get what they want. They know that parent love is not dead and they exploit what there is of it to satisfy their cravings. Some of them are undoubtedly double agents, selling household secrets for some trifling advantage.

I have never encountered a single one of these children who is happy about the divorce. I have never met one who does not blame either the father or mother or both. I have met some who are especially cruel to the mother because they know that the mother will not give up her child no matter what the child does.

With divorce so prevalent in this country, it is necessary, I am sure, to think a little about the children who are romantically brought into the world only to be left to their own devices at the wrong age.

One of the lowest blows anyone can strike at the expense of another person, group of persons, or an organization is to describe it as a "so-called such and such."

This may be a wrong impression, but "so-called" seems to be getting a workout lately. A lot of so-called commentators have developed a technique of inserting "so-called" in front of the name of everything they don't like.

One of their favorite phrases has become "so-called liberals," which gets across the idea that these are not liberals at all but imposters, which is exactly what the so-called commentators intend to get across.

Peace Gets Another Kayo

It may be all publicity, but the public rates the reported war between Marilyn Monroe and 20th Century-Fox as away out ahead of the Costa Rica-Nicaragua disturbance and does not even concede a photo finish to Moscow's warning to NATO or the Formosa-Red China fighting. If the war is on the level the results can be world-shaking. It can throw the American home into disorder, arraying brother against brother and sister against sister. There is no telling how far a Monroe-Fox war could spread or how disastrous it could be to world peace.

To our war correspondent, K. Preston Waffle, it looks even... Fox is strong, has enormous forces and is not without ample armaments... Monroe is admittedly in perfect form and is reported experimenting with secret weapons... She is mobile and has reserves... Indeed she can call on units in millions of homes, all ready to respond to a call to arms from her.

"There is," says Mr. Waffle, "a terrific Monroe Fifth Column, or underground. Fox knows this and is reported ready to use the new Nike rockets to bring her down if there is no other way."

There is even an SBMA (Stand By Marilyn Alliance), he continued. "This calls for support if she is attacked, and vice versa. The Moscow attitude is not clear, but Moscow is said to favor a West Monroe and an East Monroe. England favors Marilyn, but Churchill has made no promise to fight for her on the beaches, in the streets, etc."

We just phoned President Eisenhower. He said, "I haven't read the communiques in this Monroe-Fox clash, but I have had the facts in a general way from Mamie. I urge the nation to keep cool. Whether it is easier to keep cool with Fox or Marilyn is a matter for Congress to decide."

Fifteen airplanes and a shipload of other weapons were bought by Nicaragua from Sweden, which get them as surplus from the United States... This is a roundabout way for Uncle Sam to get a headache, even with Scandinavian rights.

Sen. McClellan, who wasn't exactly vigorous in digging for facts in the TV probe last May, seems to have had a real change of heart... He makes these statements: "I may very well reopen the Fort Monmouth case." "I hope to find out if the Peress case was due to carelessness, responsibility some action would long ago have indifference or a conspiracy." "If it had been my responsibility some action would long ago have been taken with regard to Secretary Stevens and Mr. Adams."

Heard from a Grand-Central Palace motorboat-show addict after reaching the Bronx exhibition, "Boy, I didn't know Carol would blow so many boats this far."

In the coming stock market probe we know a fellow who has asked to be the first witness so he can get in ON THE GROUND FLOOR... And we expect to find some witness refusing to answer because he wants to hold his answers for the long pull.

If Gov. Harriman cleans up boxing will it be renamed the "Harrimanly art?"

The bingo war in New York is going to get awfully hot... Believe it or not, one proposed law change provides no penalty except on complaint of an individual bingo player who, if he got a decision in his favor, would merely GET THE COST OF HIS ADMISSION TICKET BACK!!!

Seldom have so many wires come from so many people as those sent to Jim Farley expressing sorrow for his wife's sudden death... Came from all over the globe.

A Brooklyn man was arrested for breaking into a jail! It could happen nowhere else.

The atomic-powered submarine Nautilus is having new trials off New London. Along the highway above its base are stone walls from behind which Minutemen once battled the British... Close by are scenes of memorably battles of the Revolution. plies from the kitchen of the cell block where they are holding out.

O'Brien apparently had been taking a short nap when Whitney and Spurr appeared at the prison. There was a hurried conference in O'Brien's office and then the group entered the main prison.

The Rev. Edward F. Hartigan, the prison Catholic chaplain, and Dr. Samuel Merlin, prison physician, met with the desperate convicts for 2 hours and 18 minutes last night.

Dr. Merlin said after the long conference in the rebel stronghold, "There has been some progress... There are possibilities... It looks very hopeful."

The priest and doctor, weary after several meetings with the long-term prisoners, were trying to convince the rebels to forego their demand for freedom in exchange for the five guards and six other inmates held as hostages in the prison's solitary confinement cell block.

The desperadoes had three guns and several rounds of ammunition and authorities were fearful that if the stalemate continued much longer the tension might lead to bloodshed.

Word from the depths of the prison indicated that leadership in the uprising had shifted from bank robber Theodore (Teddy) Green, 39, to robber-gunsman Walter Balen, 38.

Balen and Green both had guns. The third gun was in the possession of rapist Joseph Flaherty, 32, of Boston. The fourth desperado-inmate was cop-killer Fritz Swenson, 31.

One investigator hinted the guns might have been sent into the prison in Christmas packages which escaped the scrutiny of prison authorities because of the shortage of help at the prison.

The original demand of the convicts was for a car to carry them to freedom. Warden O'Brien replied "nothing doing," a position he still holds.

party, however, went to see the prisoners personally.

The U.N. is leaving it up to the United States to inform the families of the men of these assurances. It was believed here that if any of the relatives desired to see the prisoners they would have to act first to get visas and then they might work through the U.N. to make arrangements for a trip.

The secretary general from the beginning of his mission has had uppermost in his mind the anxiety of the families about the health and the condition of the Americans and it is believed he made a special effort to inquire on that point and then he received the assurances of their well-being.

There was no indication from any U.N. official today whether any progress had been made toward releasing the prisoners or commuting their sentences. However, the feeling among U.N. officials concerned with these long-distance talks is that the prisoners eventually will be freed.

International Events Influence Congress' Action On Budget

By JAY G. HAYDEN

Congressional action on President Eisenhower's 62½ billion dollar spending program for next year and, even more, actual expenditures between now and July 1, 1956, hinge in large part on presently unforeseeable international events.

If in the nearly half a year remaining before military and foreign aid appropriations are finally budgeted there is significant lessening of war tensions, Congress very well may lop off the 2½ billion dollars necessary to balance the 1956 budget.

Release by Communist China of imprisoned American fliers would influence Congress in that direction and so would any successful outcome of widely suggested peace negotiations with Russia.

If, on the other hand, our fliers are still in jail five months from now, and if the Communist capture of the small island of Yikiang-shan should prove the beginning of full fledged war in the Formosan Strait, Congress may materially tilt the President's appropriation request.

Generally, new warlike tendencies anywhere around the world will play into the hands of elements in and out of Congress who are disgruntled by President Eisenhower's already deep cuts from estimates by the armed services of their own needs.

BAD NEWS from abroad will help the President put through his reserve approach to Universal Military Training and his recommendations for sharp pay increases for the more skilled personnel in the armed services. By the same token, improvement in the overseas outlook may make hard going for these proposals.

Aside from the reserve and pay items plenty of disputes over defense and foreign aid proposals are plainly in sight. Chairman Cannon of the House Appropriations Committee spotted one of the hottest by declaring his opposition to a 180 million dollar first allowance for construction of a fifth super aircraft carrier.

A considerable number of congressmen have felt for a long time that 30 million dollars or more, which each supercarrier costs, is too much money to invest in any one naval vessel. There has been a widely held congressional opinion further that these big aircraft carriers came into being as compensation to the Navy for backing the present large increase in land-based air force, largely at expense of the Army.

The Air Force wing of the Pentagon is well satisfied with the Eisenhower program and the Navy is reasonable appeased. But the foot-slogging branches (Army and Marine Corps) are mad all over and they and their political friends are preparing to fight.

FOR THE ARMY a projected loss of 200,000 personnel in the two years (1954-56) is only one of its woes. Even more humiliating is the failure of the President to allow the branch which he once served as chief of staff even one cent of new money for equipment. Indeed, 800 million dollars left over from previous appropriations for the Army is proposed to be transferred to other services.

The reason for the appropriations transfer, of course, is that, throughout the Korean war virtually everything the Army could think to ask for was promptly allowed, with the result that huge appropriated sums had not even reached the contract stage when the Korean truce was achieved in mid-1953.

Surplus Korean War equipment is counted on to ease the strain of foreign military aid. The budget calls for $2,030,000,000 of new money to bolster the fighting power of our overseas friends, but the expenditure for that purpose in the 1956 fiscal year is placed at $3,675,000,000. The difference between those sums will be made up from equipment paid for under appropriations for past years.

President Eisenhower said in his message that the appropriations requested would help United States allies "to complete the equipping and training of the equivalent of more than 180 divisions, 551 combat vessels, 273 squadrons and related support units."

DURING THE LAST five years, he said, the United States has delivered abroad more than 6,000 airplanes, almost 900 naval vessels of all types; 36,000 tanks and combat vehicles and nearly 200,000 transport vehicles. He added that he hoped "we may soon begin furnishing certain items of military equipment which will be needed by the new German forces. To the extent that this material cannot be financed by the Federal Republic of Germany from its own resources, it will be financed from appropriations for the Mutual Security Program."

In every Congress for the past eight years there has been a hot fight over the large proposals for foreign aid. Invariably the aid proposals have won out because a majority of the legislators felt that every Allied soldier helped reduce the possibility of American young men being sent into foreign wars.

zone 18 miles long and six miles wide which the commission established yesterday along the border north of the fighting area.

In accepting the neutral zone proposal, both Costa Rican President Jose Figueres and Nicaraguan President Anastasio Somoza agreed to keep their troops out of the area and their planes out of the air above it.

Somoza already has announced he would intern any of the Costa Rican rebels chased across his border. The demilitarized area runs athwart the rebels' natural escape route, between the Pacific Ocean and Lake Nicaragua.

In setting up the buffer zone, the OAS commission emphasized that it was not seeking a cease-fire in the rebellion but only keeping the Costa Ricans and the Nicaraguans from tangling. The commission made its proposal after Somoza charged Costa Rican planes attacking the rebel headquarters Wednesday had violated Nicaraguan territory. He warned further border violations would have "grave" consequences.

Curfew Preventive, Not Cure, Progressive Mothers Club Told

A curfew law is "a preventive measure, not a cure" according to Juvenile Probation Officer Cornelius Csepke, who spoke at the Tuesday night meeting of the Progressive Mothers Club.

Mrs. David Keller was hostess to the mothers in her home on Brooklyn Ave. Mrs. Dudley Ashead presided at the meeting and Mrs. Gus Edling, program chairman, introduced the speaker.

Locust Grove Church To Get Emblem Award

Rev. Warren G. Zinn, pastor of the Locust Grove Baptist Church, has received word that the church will receive high honor and recognition from its denomination when it is awarded the "Emblem of Achievement" and the "A" banner at the morning service Sunday, Jan. 23.

The award will be made on behalf of the American Baptist Convention by the Rev. Wilfred T. Packer, Director of Christian Education for the Ohio Baptist Convention.

This award comes to the local church because of the measure of excellence achieved during the year in the Sunday church school. This high quality of work has been achieved under the impetus of the Achievement Plan for Baptist Sunday church schools, a work plan designed to provide help by giving direction to the work of the school.

Under the plan 10 goals are set up and only those schools which achieve all 10 of them are eligible to receive the award emblematic of denomination-wide recognition.

Only a very limited number of the Sunday church schools of the American Baptist Convention are receiving the coveted "A" award. The fact that less than two hundred of the more than six thousand schools in the denomination have earned the right to this distinction indicated its importance and the high honor it involves.

Rev. Warren G. Zinn, in speaking of the coming presentation, said, "The workers and members of the Sunday church school are deserving of the highest praise for the untiring effort expended in this remarkable achievement. Our church is deeply grateful for this fine measure of devotion, and for the high honor which comes from the denomination of which we are a part."

Spring Hat Styles

HALO BERET... Lilly Dache designs this backward looking beret in beige straw, posed on a clip bow of white grosgrain ribbon.

PIXIE HAT... This peaked cap of textured belting ribbon is trimmed with a filmy silk scarf tied in back. By Peg Fischer.

The appearance of Mr. Csepke was in keeping with the club's policy this year which centers around the theme that the family is the cornerstone of the social edifice, and has been taken as a model for forming other associations — political, civil and religious. With the growth of good families, nations prosper, the club believes.

"Any child under 18 who violates a state or city law" was the definition of a delinquent given by the juvenile officer. He said that "examples set by parents will determine the delinquency of their children."

Csepke explained that the formula for being a good parent was to hit a happy medium of love, security and religious instruction. He cited the leading causes contributing to the delinquency of a child as broken homes, and lack of religious background.

A question and answer period concluded the talk.

Co-hostesses were Mrs. Clyde Miller and Mrs. Donald Smith. When the members meet Feb. 1 Mrs. Tomas Crothers will be hostess in her home on E. State St.

Two parties this week honored Mrs. Harry Maenz, who before her marriage Jan. 3 was Janet Bates.

Monday night's party guests were former sixth grade classmates at Buckeye School. They presented the recent bride with a bedspread. Reminiscing and TV entertained through the informal evening.

The hostess planning the affair was Miriam Smith. She was assisted by her mother, Mrs. H. D. Smith at the party in the Smith home on Jennings Ave.

The second party took place in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Bates on the Goshen Rd. Entertaining were Elaine Ingram and Nancy Conley. Kitchen shower gifts were brought for Mrs. Maenz.

Some of the gifts were placed in a big clothes basket and others the honoree had to find from clues written in rhyme and concealed in balloons used for decorating. Miss Conley made the decorated three-tiered cake, topped with a miniature bride figurine, which was served the guests. A bouquet of snapdragons and mums added to the table decor. Favors were pastel colored umbrella girls fastened to nut cups. Contest winners were Mrs. Zoe Ingram and Miss Helen Spack.

George Washington Rips Virginia Tech, Ends String of Upsets

4 Top Teams Fall In 3 Days; Colgate Defeats Cornell 63-57

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

The upset streak finally has been upset in college basketball.

George Washington's ninth-ranked Colonials, who earlier this week had a hand in one of the numerous form reversals, took charge of Virginia Tech in fine style 95-60 last night. That closed

Collegiate TV Dispute Still To Be Settled

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—There are so many puzzling aspects of the national television problem as it affects college football that one can easily despair of ever putting all the pieces together, but we have been able in recent days to gain a little understanding that we didn't have before.

One thing we started out to learn was why the national networks want to go through the sweat and tears of televising the so-called Game of the Week at all. This seemed to be a fair question, for there isn't any money in it. NBC, which had the feature three years, finally made a few dollars in 1953, but the ABC, which took it over last season, was reported to have dropped over two million dollars.

That doesn't appear to be very good business, but we are assured it isn't necessarily as bad as it looks when prestige is involved. Each network which can afford it is anxious to build up as devoted an audience as possible on Saturday afternoons, especially in the fall. A network official explains it this way:

"Each of us has a full program of big money features on Saturday night, backed by major sponsors. It is our business to get them the greatest possible audience. If we can get you to switch on our station during the afternoon there's a good chance you never will get up to change it all evening. You might of course but it will take an effort. We've got the odds on our side."

That explains a lot. We had been especially curious as to why NBC threw all the money it did into bringing the games of the Canadian professional league into our living rooms during the past fall. Probably everybody else knew, but we didn't. We did not, at least, appreciate the finer shadings of the word prestige.

How anxious are the national networks to continue telecasting the college Game of the Week, with the NCAA choosing the game and generally calling the shots, as it did last season? We are told they are not anxious at all, and that unless the NCAA Television Committee comes up with a better proposition in February there is not likely to be a single bid for the telecasting privilege.

The prediction of knowing men is that the eventual solution of the vexing problem which has torn the college football fraternity lies in the telecasting of games on a state or regional basis. When a state university has a sellout game, it will permit it to go out over stations within the state. Bills have been offered in several state legislatures demanding that this be done.

Youngstown Beaten By Titans 85-75

By The Associated Press

Two teams from outside Ohio's borders administered defeats to Ohio teams last night as the week's college basketball moved toward a busy weekend.

The Titans of Westminster journeyed to Youngstown and took home their fifth victory in a row, 85-75.

In Fort Wayne, Ind., Defiance pressed hard in two overtime periods, but was shaded 82-79, by Findlay's Oilers as an 88-76 victory squared an earlier Defiance victory on the Ohio floor.

An edge in free throws gave Findlay's Oilers an 8-76 victory at Wilmington. Each team netted 31 field goals, but the Oilers dropped in a dozen more free throws than the Quakers in the Ohio Conference game.

out a string of upsets among the nation's top 10 teams that had knocked off four kingpins in three nights this week.

Illinois, No. 7 in this week's Associated Press poll, was jolted by Iowa Monday; second-ranked North Carolina State and sixth-ranked Maryland were dropped by North Carolina and George Washington, respectively, Tuesday, and Kansas State surprised eighth-ranked Missouri Wednesday.

George Washington was the only high-ranking team on the job last night. Even among the unranked teams things went as expected. Colgate defeated Cornell for the second time this season 63-57. Tulsa scored a 48-42 victory over Oklahoma City U. Wichita spilled Seattle 74-71 and Texas A & M beat Louisiana State 58-47.

George Washington smothered Virginia Tech with a field goal show that bettered 50 per cent. Joe Holup and Corky Devlin, holdovers from the Colonials' 1953-54 Southern Conference champs, scored 26 and 24 points respectively.

Colgate had to scramble against Cornell's Ivy League leaders, who led 16-0 at the start and 35-22 at the half. Colgate perked up in the second half and took the lead with 2½ minutes left.

Tulsa Coach Clarence Iba, who favors the possession style of his brother Hank at Oklahoma A&M, played it close to the vest against Oklahoma City in a game that marked up 37 fouls. Bob Patterson, Tulsa's scoring leader, was bottled up by a two and three-man defense and got only eight points.

Wichita had a 40-36 halftime lead then had to shake off Seattle with a rally in the final two minutes.

Dayton to Play At Louisville, Mount at Case

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Dayton's rampant Flyers, 18th in the national collegiate basketball race, get a chance to enhance their rating tonight as they meet the University of Louisville on the Kentucky floor.

The Flyers, minus star John Horan, rapped their record to 12-3 Wednesday night with a 91-73 win over Western Kentucky. Earlier in the campaign, Dayton defeated Louisville 71-67—but that one was on Dayton's court.

The Louisville-Dayton scrap is one of the headlines on an 18-game program involving Ohio colleges this weekend. Other standouts send Cincinnati (12-3) against Miami (9-3); Eastern Kentucky against Xavier (9-5); and Ohio State (6-4) against Purdue—all Saturday night.

Tonight's slate, in addition to the Louisville-Dayton fray, lists Ohio North (8-1) at Bluffton (1-7) in a Mid-Ohio League game, Mount Union (5-5) at Case (5-2), and High-scoring Rio Grande (10-2) at West Virginia State.

Ohio U. last week's statewide leader, was upset 79-69 by Toledo Monday night, but gets a chance to get back into the Mid-American Conference fight by meeting Bowling Green (3-8) Saturday. Marshall's Thundering Herd, on Miami's heels in the Mid-American race with 5-1 to the Redskins' 7-1, could move up another notch by taking Kent State (5-7).

Marietta, last year's Ohio Conference and statewide champ, can get into a tie with Wooster at 4-0 for that circuit's top spot by turning back Akron in what looms as a tough one. Marietta has a 13-2 record and Akron 10-2.

Other Saturday games are Kenyon (4-5) vs Oberlin (2-5); Capital (7-2) vs Heidelberg (3-5); Otterbein (5-7) vs Mt. Union (5-5); Denison (5-7) vs Hiram (2-5); Ashland (3-5) vs Cedarville (1-10); Penn (1-8) vs Wooster (8-2); Rio Grande vs Bluefield, and Central State (5-6) vs Andrtson, Ind.

14 Cage Events Set In District

Local Squads Still
Beset By Illness

The Salem Quakers will be looking for their 9th and 10th wins of the current season this weekend when they face the invading Girard and High Indians tonight and travel to the Sebring gym tomorrow night.

The locals, ranked the seventh top Ohio high school cage squad by the AP this week, are expected to add two more games to their victory slate, although they may have a tough time each night.

Girard has been showing up very strong the past few weeks and will undoubtedly give the Cabasmen a good game. The Trojans are stressing this game and the Sebring squad will be "up" for this tilt.

Several Salem first string members have been out of school most of the week with colds and influenza. Jerry Myers was still absent from classes yesterday. Dick Hunter and Dale Middeker also were ill. Two of Karl Zellers Reserve starters, Matt Klein and Johnny Stevenson, are out of school.

Tonight's Reserve game will start at 7:30, with the Varsity tilt slated for 9 p.m. Saturday night's Reserve contest at Sebring will begin at 7:15 and the Varsity at 8:30. Nine district contests are scheduled for tonight. A complete schedule of weekend games follows.

Darrell Floyd Takes Over Scoring Lead

NEW YORK (AP)—Major college basketball had a new scoring leader this week, Darrell Floyd of Furman, the school that produced the No. 1 point getter last season.

Floyd, a junior who took over the high scoring duties after Frank Selvy graduated, is collecting points at an average of 35.1 per game. A week ago, Ohio State's Robin Freeman led with a 35.1 average, but he slipped this week to 34.9, the NCAA Service Bureau reported today. The figures are through games of Jan. 15.

Floyd has helped make Furman the nation's No. 1 offensive team, with an average of 98.3 points a game.

The exclusive 2,000-point club, meanwhile, greeted a new member—George Dalton of John Carroll, Dalton, now in his fourth year, hoisted his career total to 2,015 last week. His average of 23.0 puts him No. 30 on the individual scoring list this week.

Gene Carpenter of Texas Tech is back again as leader in field goal accuracy, hitting with 63.8 per cent compared with 63.5 for Bob Strawser of Ohio University.

In rebounds, Art Quimby of Connecticut is averaging 25.4 against 25.1 for Charlie Slack of Marshall.

Boosters Fete Salem Cagers At Luncheon

The Salem Booster Club feted the Salem High School basketball squads to a Dutch luncheon last night in the Salem High School gym.

Club President Alden Smith announced that preliminary plans for the annual basketball banquet will get underway in a few weeks.

Salem Coach John Cabas showed a basketball film and spoke briefly to the club about last week's games.

To Race Tonight

Wes Santee Sets Sights On Indoor Mile Record

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Wes Santee takes to the boards for the first time this season in the 1955 Philadelphia Inquirer Games at Convention Hall tonight and the world's ranking active miler thinks he'll do all right.

"I think the winner of the race (although he didn't say he'd win) will run pretty close to the world (indoor) record and probably will top it if conditions are right," he said.

"This is my first time on the boards this season and I've never run on the boards here before," he continued. "But I'll see what happens. I think I'm due for a good night one of these days."

Gil Dodds' world indoor mark of 4:05.3, set in 1948, figures to get a good test from Santee, who in turn figures to have all he can handle in Denmark's Gunnar Nielsen and Belfast's Vic Milligan.

Neilsen won the mile event in the Boston K of C games last Saturday night in 4:07.9 and has said he's confident he can set a new world's mark before the indoor season ends.

Another world mark is endangered in the 600-yard dash with Villanova's Charley Jenkins figured the winner. Jenkins was a half second off the world's record in the Boston meet.

Andy Standfield and Rod Perry will battle it out in the sprints and Harrison (Bones) Dillard and Charley Pratt go at it in the hurdles.

Other outstanding entries include Olympic winner Horace Ashenfelter in the two-mile; Army Pvt. Herman Wyatt, who leaped 6-10 in the high jump at Boston; and the Rev. Bob Richards and Don Laz in the pole vault.

Basilio Faces Peter Mueller In Bout Tonight

By JACK HAND

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Carmen Basilio gambles on a tentative April 1 title shot with welterweight champ Johnny Saxton tonight when he boxes Peter Mueller, sturdy German middleweight, in a 10-round match at War Memorial Auditorium. A sellout crowd of 8,700 and a gross gate of $40,000 are expected.

Syracuse will be blacked out on television. Otherwise the show gets the usual network radio-TV (NBC) treatment, starting at 10 p.m.

Of course, Basilio might not lose his second chance at the 147-pound title if he should be beaten by Mueller. The match was made at a 155-pound contract over the welter limit. However, a defeat in his home territory would be damaging his second chance at the 147-pound title if he should be beaten by Mueller. The match was made at a 155-pound contract over the welter limit. However, a defeat in his home territory would be damaging to the prestige of the No. 1 contender.

Basilio is a solid 14 to 5 favorite to make the "Clown of Cologne" jump through the hops. Unbeaten since he lost a disputed split decision to Kid Gavilan in a title fight, Sept. 18, 1953, Basilio is a vastly improved boxer.

The 27-year-old son of a Canastota, N.Y. onion farmer is a good left hooker who can punch to the head or body with equal effect. He can take a solid smash and always is trained to the peak of condition. For the Mueller fight he'll probably weigh 150 to Mueller's 155.

Mueller, 27, won a dubious distinction by knocking out a German referee in 1952. He was suspended "for life" but was reinstated two years later. After losing his first fight in the U.S. to Gene Fullmer, Nov. 15, he upset Tiger Jones and Joe Miceli and stopped Ernie Durand all within 24 days. He may not be the best boxer, but he's the busiest for they already have dates lined up for him into April.

Mickey Wright Leads Tampa Women's Open

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Hard-working Mickey Wright, in her first year as a professional, showed the veterans the way by two strokes over the second round of the $5000 Tampa Women's Open Golf Tournament today.

The tall blonde from San Diego was the only one in the field of 149 to break par 75 for the tough Palma Ceia course yesterday, coming in with 35-59-74.

Four veterans were tied at 76—Babe Zaharias of Tampa, defending champion Betsy Rawls, Spartanburg, S.C.; Jackie Pung, Honolulu; and Beverly Hanson, Indio, Calif.

Top Ohio Cage Teams In Action

State Rankings Due
For Weekend Shakeup

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's high school basketball rankings are due for a shakeup this weekend as several of the top teams tangle.

Portsmouth's Trojans, poll leaders despite last week's loss to Columbus East, bang into Springfield's third-place Wildcats tonight at Springfield in a tilt certain to have an effect on the ratings.

That's the lone start for the Trojans this week, but Springfield faces another tough one Saturday at Mansfield. The Tigers, currently rated sixth, dropped a close one to Sandusky Tuesday night for their third loss in 12 games.

Columbus East, with a 12-record good for second place, faces Columbus Linden (7-4) tonight. Findlay, boasting the top record in the big 10 with 12-0, plays at Fostoria tonight and entertains Kenton tomorrow night in an attempt to better its fourth place in The Associated Press poll.

Fifth place Canton McKinley (8-1) travels to Alliance tonight, as Mansfield goes against Lima Central at Lima. The latter is tied with Hamilton Catholic for eighth place.

Salem, in seventh with 8-1, entertains Girard tonight and goes to Sebring tomorrow, while Hamilton Catholic plays Lebanon Saturday and Dayton Chamaine Sunday.

Lockland Wayne (12-1), Class B poll leader, plays at Newport (Ky.) Catholic Saturday night, while second-place Vienna (14-0) has a snap tonight in Southington which has a 1-12 record.

DiMaggio Says Leagues Lack Good Rookies

LOS ANGELES (AP)—He is now 40 and has been away from baseball for four years, but Joe DiMaggio would be interested in getting back in some capacity, if and when the major leagues comes to the West Coast.

The Yankee Clipper, a bit thinner than his 187-pound playing weight and his hair flecked with gray, was in a reflective mood when a reporter found him lounging in a Hollywood hotel lobby yesterday.

"I'm glad I played ball when I did," he said. "In my era we had great rookies coming up in handfuls every spring. Now, if there is a Willie Mays once in two years, baseball people consider themselves lucky. I think there are too many buildings and not enough vacant lots. Maybe the Little League will fill the gap, eventually."

Joe says he's still mulling over what he'll do for the rest of his life. He said he has rejected many business offers. Financially, he's fairly secure, but he says he needs to do into something that is both interesting and permanent.

"If I had a chance to catch on in the majors in an executive capacity after the majors come here, I'd like that," he said. "But I'm happy here. I divide my time between Los Angeles and San Francisco."

Right now, Joe is lining up a television show and is flying back to New York next week to discuss it. He says he may take a group of major leaguers of Italian descent to Italy next October.

Brains and Chains Needed, Patrol Warns

"Brains plus chains equal safe driving on snow and ice."

This is a winter driving slogan of Cpl. E. W. Mallory of the Ohio State Highway Patrol at Salem and today he passed it along to other drivers who want to stay safe when old man winter throws the book at them.

The officer said it's a lot harder to stop your car when the road is wet or slippery than it is when the road is dry. He illustrated his point by giving the following average braking distances which would be required by a car with regular tires traveling at a speed of 20 m.p.h. over three different types of road surfaces: Dry concrete, 21 feet; hard packed snow, 46 to 75 feet and glare ice, 192 to 223 feet.

"These figures should convince any driver that he's got to winterize both his driving habits and his equipment," he said. "A driver can't hope to stop suddenly when the pavement is slippery, so he's got to drive slowly and to step up his alertness. He's also got to give his car some help."

Mallory said that the best help for a car in snow-ice weather is reinforced tire chains — chains on which each link of the cross chains is reinforced by projecting teeth or cleats. He explained that a car with regular tires traveling at a speed of 20 m.p.h. would require 192 to 223 feet to stop on glare ice at 20 degrees F. The same car would only require 74 to 83 feet if it were equipped with reinforced tire chains. On hard-packed snow its braking distance would be 46 to 75 feet with regular tires, 35 to 40 feet with reinforced tire chains.

"But even with the best chains on the market," he warned, "you've still got to slow down for snow and ice. For example, on a road where your normal speed would be 50 m.p.h., you must not travel more than 25 m.p.h. even when using reinforced tire chains if the road is icy. On the same road covered with packed snow, you should keep your speed under 35 m.p.h."

WANTED—MORE HIGHWAYS

Illustrated above are some of the principal reasons why President Eisenhower is asking Congress to approve a tremendous expansion of the nation's road-building program. Basis of his plea is the recent report of his highway advisory committee, headed by Gen. Lucius D. Clay. The report recommends a 10-year, $101 billion road-building program. This is a $54 billion increase over the present program. A grim new fact of the highway picture is the necessity for adequate highways to evacuate millions of people from target areas plus sufficient roads for speeding military men and this task," says the report. "No urban area in the country today has highway facilities equal to

Villages Complain Of Sewage Ultimatum

COLUMBUS, Ohio (U) — Representatives from some Ohio villages yesterday complained the state is trying to force them to build sewage treatment plants they say they can't afford.

The group appeared at a hearing by the water pollution committee of the Ohio Legislative Service Commission.

Village spokesmen said the state has issued temporary permits that permit dumping sewage into streams, but threatens to impose fines unless villages end stream pollution.

They suggested state or federal aid to meet the problem, or continued exemptions from Ohio's anti-stream pollution laws.

Towns represented at the hearing included Pemberville, Degraff, Sheffield Lake, Forest, Milford, Oak Harbor, Garrettsville, Waverly, Plymouth, Baltic, Cardington, Malta, Medina, Mt. Victory, Leipsic, Elmore, Beaver, Metamora, Lyons, Roscoe and Rocky River.

Woman Makes Profit On Attempted Holdup

FARMINGDALE, N.J. (U) — Mrs. Louis Poline, operator of a small general store, filled a routine order for two packs of cigarettes and started to get change for a dollar bill when the customer pulled a gun and said:

"I'll take it all!" Mrs. Poline screamed. The gunman fled.

When things calmed down again, Mrs. Poline figured she got a full $1 for two packs of cigarettes.

MILK PRESIDENT DEFEATED — CLEVELAND (U) — The Milk Producers Federation of Cleveland defeated its president, E. A. Spafford of Rock Creek, yesterday in his bid for re-election as a director from Ashtabula County. Spafford, a director since 1946, lost to W. H. Kellogg of Rome. Other new members of the board, which will meet Monday, are Clifford D. Hoover of Bucyrus and Homer Billman of West Salem. Directors of six other districts in the federation were re-elected.

Heart Disease Risk

Down for Younger People

CHICAGO (U) — The president of the American Heart Assn. says the risk of dying of heart disease has declined sharply for persons under 44 years of age. It has remained stationary for women over 44, but has increased for males above that age.

Dr. E. Cowles Andrus of Boston told a luncheon meeting that medical advances in the last 30 years have reduced the heart death risk of persons under 25 by 70 per cent. Between 25 and 44, the rate for both sexes has dropped 35 per cent, men between 45 and 54 has risen 24 per cent and for males between 55 and 64 by 13 per cent.

Crestline Man Admits Slaying Mother-In-Law

MOUNT VERNON, Ohio (U) — Knox County authorities yesterday said Glenn Hoffer, 24, of Crestline, had confessed the gunshot slaying of his mother-in-law.

Charles W. Ayres, county prosecutor, refused to disclose details of the confession, but quoted Hoffer as saying he first shot Mrs. Starling Hamon, 38, in her home, then drove five miles to where her husband was working and shot and wounded him.

Ayres said Hoffer surrendered to police here after the shooting last Monday. The Korean War veteran is being held in Knox County Jail.

The Hamon's daughter, Trulah, who married Hoffer in October 1953, filed suit for divorce about a month ago. Their son Mark, 7 months, old, and the Hamon's daughter Shelley, 2, were in the home when the shooting occurred.

Ike Signs Bill To Tighten Dope Control

WASHINGTON (U) — President Eisenhower has signed a bill tightening the narcotics enforcement laws and plugging a loophole inadvertently opened by the 1954 tax revision bill.

The 1954 law struck from the statutes most of the penalties for tax violations in narcotics traffic. These penalties had been used mainly to halt illegal drug traffic. The new law restores mandatory penalties for violating the tax sections.

Poet Robert Coffin Is Dead At 62

WESTBROOK, Maine (U) — Robert P. Tristram Coffin, 62, Pulitzer Prize-winning poet whose works depicted his native Maine's folklore, died unexpectedly last night.

The poet was stricken as he was about to address a Portland College Club audience.

Coffin won a Pulitzer Prize in 1935 for "Strange Holiness," a collection of poems on Maine. He was composer of many other works, including "Yoke of Thunder," and "Kennebec, the Cradle of Americans"—first of a series of books about American rivers.

He was an English professor at Bowdoin College and traveled extensively as a lecturer.

EX-AUDITOR INDICTED

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (U) — Former City Auditor James E. McCoy, 43, of nearby New Boston yesterday was indicted on 11 counts of embezzlement involving more than $17,000. He is scheduled to be arraigned Monday. McCoy resigned after last Nov. 18 when the state auditor's office named him in a finding for recovery of $18,994.

And it takes MONEY, too. The crippled child who is cut off from her playmates lives only half-a-life. The disabled wage-earner needs more than just plain guts to carry on. Only with expert treatment, good equipment and understanding care can the stricken overcome crushing handicaps. These are the things MONEY can buy.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

The surgeon-general of the U.S. welfare agency, dealing with matters ranging from obtaining surplus food to helping to settle family problems, Perlis decided to get a definitive answer. So he wrote:

Victor Riesel

"Dear Mrs. Hobby: As a result of the current controversy on the relationship of smoking to cancer we have been receiving inquiries from some of our members as to the position of your department on this matter."

"I would appreciate hearing from you as to whether or not your department does have a position on it, and if so, what it is."

"What are the findings of the U.S. Public Health Service on the relationship of smoking to cancer and heart disease?"

"Has your department made any specific recommendations to the Federal Trade Commission concerning the advertising campaigns of tobacco firms?"

"Does your department consider making such recommendations in the light of Dr. Ochsner's recent report entitled 'Smoking and Cancer'?"

"I would appreciate receiving all available information."

The surgeon-general, D. R. Leonard A. Scheele, also informed the CIO's National Community Services Committee that his agency, therefore, would make no recommendations to the Federal Trade Commission on "the advertising campaigns of tobacco firms."

This statement was dispatched to Leo Perlis, the CIO Community Services director, in a written reply to his request for information on the effects of smoking.

Perlis, a most itinerant official who believes in abandoning the swivel chair for the airplane seat, reports that he wrote to the U.S. Department of Health Education and Welfare on Nov. 15, 1954.

He sent his inquiry to the secretary of the department, Mrs. Over to Culp Hobby, after he had been approached at meetings and luncheons by many anxious rank-and-file CIO members.

PERLIS HAD no answer for his people across country. Because his committee is the CIO's health and

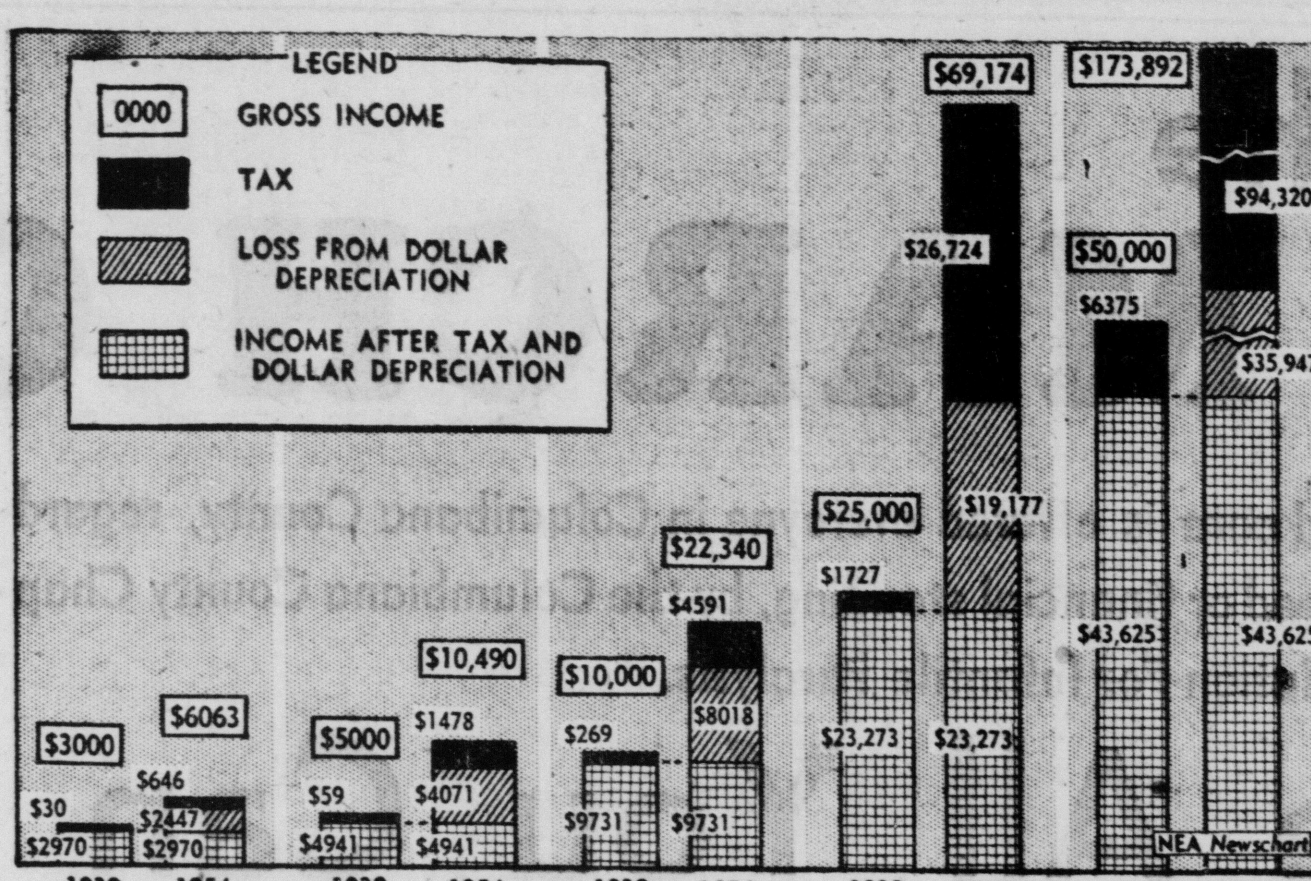

MRS. HOBBY turned the matter over to the government's top medical authority, the surgeon-general, Dr. Scheele's reply follows:

"Dear Mr. Perlis: Mrs. Hobby has asked me to reply to your letter of Nov. 15 in which you asked to be advised of the position of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare on the question

Ike Warns Stock Buyers Not To Try Runaway Speculation

NEW YORK (AP) — President Eisenhower has put stock traders on notice today not to try any runaway speculation.

In what some regard as a warning to "the public" which has been drawn into the stock market by the lure of fast rising prices, he says his administration would take measures to halt excess speculation if it started.

The President, however, gives stock traders a paternal pat for reflecting confidence in our economic future by their active bidding up of stocks in recent months.

The recent increase of stock margin requirements by the Federal Reserve Board, the President says in his economic message to Congress, shows that the government "is mindful of its great responsibility" to prevent a financial boom-and-bust.

Tighter money and rising interest rates had Wall Street guessing, even before the President tipped his hand.

Stock traders, bankers and businessmen wonder if the first short steps away from real easy money signal the start of a trend toward definitely harder money. They remember that a move early in 1953 to make money dearer helped put a brake on inflation.

Money managers in Washington deny they are trying to tighten the screws in credit. But they show they could move fast to nip a speculative flurry before it could develop into a boom this year, to be followed by a bust next year. The fact that next year is an election year may or may not have anything to do with the case.

The Federal Reserve Board took the first steps last fall when, acting on the marked business pick up, it stopped shovelling more money into the economy. It thus ended its policy of "active ease." As increased business brought more demand for credit, money got a little tighter. And in recent days the cost of borrowing has started to rise.

FORMOSA DEFENSE LINE. — Map locates tiny Yikiangshan where the Chinese Nationalist defense ministry reported seaborne attack by Chinese Communists which may have taken over the island just eight miles north of the vital Tachen Islands (A). Dotted line indicates defense perimeter of the Nationalist forces between the Chinese mainland and the Nationalist stronghold of Formosa. Also located are Matsuo (B) and Quemoy (C), near the Chinese mainland, two other vital spots in the defense perimeter. Also located are the Pescadores, underlined, which is one additional spot which the Nationalists would defend to the hilt.

The U.S. Treasury is paying the highest price since December 1953 for the money it borrows each week through its discount bills. Business men who sell their notes to commercial paper dealers have found the interest they must pay going up twice of late.

The finance companies who sell their notes to bankers and investors are paying more interest this week than last. It is the first time in 19 months their borrowing costs have gone up. In fact, since September 1953 the cost had gone down 10 times.

Bankers, supporting the federal reserve board's new policy of letting supply and demand take care of the money market at this time, say that actually bank credit is still readily available at relative cheap costs.

The upturn in most business has justified the ending of the board's policy of actively easing credit, the bankers say. And the business gains so far give no sign of picking up enough speed to threaten a new period of inflation.

The warning that Washington will step hard on any speculative spurge in the stock market is believed in Wall Street to imply no rebuke to the bulls for carrying prices to their present levels—just a warning not to overdo it.

The ranks of the bears, meantime, continue to shrink. The number of shares sold short in anticipation of lower prices is lower now than at any time since last June.

And public interest in the market continues high, with the number of issues involved in each day's trading staying large as buyers shop through the entire list.

Kiwanis To Share In Foundation Fund

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Columnist Jimmy Fidler and fellow directors of National Kids' Day Foundation, Inc., have asked Superior Court for permission to dissolve the organization.

The petition proposed yesterday that remaining funds, 282,000 in banks and building and loan deposits, be placed in trust with the Bank of America as trustee and be dispersed by Kiwanis International.

The foundation was organized June 18 1944 to publicize an annual Kids' Day—the last Saturday in September—and encourage contributions by communities throughout the nation to provide aid for underprivileged children, the petition related.

Authorities here and in New York charged more than a year ago that the foundation has raised about 4 million dollars but that 3 1/4 millions had been charged off to expenses with only $329,000 going to aid children.

Q — Does smoking a pipe, cigar or cigarettes affect one's blood pressure?

A — It usually causes a temporary rise in blood pressure but whether it has any permanent effect remains somewhat in dispute.

A — This has all of the earmarks of one of the rare allergic sensitivities to aspirin. The person involved should avoid aspirin and probably related drugs and if he or she ever becomes seriously ill the doctor should be informed of this allergic response so that he can be careful in prescribing other drugs which might produce a similar reaction.

Q — Every time I have a large amount of beer the next day or during the night I have terrible pains under my ribs. My stomach also gets puffed up, hard and sore to touch. What could this be?

— It is probably the accumulation of gas in the digestive tract. The remedy is obvious.

Q — My 16-year-old son plays on the high school football team and I am terribly worried that he will get broken teeth since I know someone else who had a bad accident of this kind. Can anything be done?

A — An article in the Journal of the American Dental Association stated that more than half of the injuries suffered by college and high school football players occurred in the mouth area. They recommended that mouth protectors be worn by all schoolboys who play football and where they tried this in a Chicago high school they found that dental injuries had been reduced 100 per cent.

This old red barn near Arlington Heights, Ill., is being converted to a . . .

They Wanted A Church— And Got One

Residents of Rolling Meadows, a new subdivision of Arlington Heights, Ill., turned church-builders when they became determined to have a place to worship in their own community. An old, red barn was remodeled. Lumber and paint were provided by Kimball Hill, a local builder, who also approved the use of the building. The builders poured a concrete floor on the lower level, built a stairway to the hay loft and erected a pulpit and altar for the pastor. The volunteer labor force assembled in October and the church was ready for its first service on Dec. 5. There are 17 denominations represented in the community of 800.
